Higher-up Union Boss Terrified as All Fingers of Suspicion Point to Him.

Mrs. Ingersoll Tells Los Angeles Attorney and San Francisco Police Chief of Arch-Conspirator and Others Who Conceived Plot Against The Times and Furnished Money for Massacre-Evans and Excuses Confounded by Facts in Possession of Detectives.

IT IS NOW apparent that the discovery of the 500 pounds of dynamite in the house at No. 1622 Nineteenth Avenue, South, in San Francisco, was one of the most providential finds in the history of crime. Information of positive character has come to the detectives that the conspirators intended to use all this dynamite in Los Angeles—as a letter written by one of the anarchistic sympathizers says, “to blow the—seab town to hell.” The plot was the most diabolical of modern times. After the destruction of The Times plant, the programme was to blow up other open shops of Los Angeles that were battling against the enemies of industrial freedom and to renew assaults with murderous intent on the various great constructive jobs being carried on by non-union labor. The object of the fiends was to make a horrible example of Los Angeles, on account of its fame as the citadel of non-unionism, the most liberty-loving city in the United States; to prove that one, frightful blasting of life and property should follow another until terror should stalk through the city and put the people and visitors to flight in droves. Such was the purpose to which the 500 pounds of giant powder was to be put—such the ferocious scheme of consecutive explosions thwarted by the discovery of the unused dynamite in the vacant house hired by the “Bryson-Schmidt” gang, in the pay of the higher-ups.

BY W. R. WILLIAMS.

(By DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The scene of the hunt for the perpetrators of the Times massacre shifted again tonight when Earl Rogers and Detective S. L. Browne, who have had charge of the investigation here, left for Los Angeles. For two days they have been hunting at least six persons who will be the center of interest. After that, it is expected that the work here will be resumed with renewed energy and pressed to a conclusion.

Rogers went south for the purpose of examining the Lavin woman before the County grand jury and the public prosecutor, and of taking testimony of witnesses. Mrs. Ingersoll, who was admitted to the trial room, said that he would be there to give his version of the crime.

EARL ROGERS, San Francisco, will leave up to him for the investigation.

Both men were plumply supplied with money. They spent it as this class of men always does in carousals and on women. Brice, or Bryson, and Schmidt and the two women were often together. At one of these carousals, Brice, or Bryson, according to Mrs. Ingersoll, said:

“We’re goin’ to get some town and we have done other big things together and we can do still bigger things.”

Both men are former Chicagoans; the detectives have learned. This is what Brice, or Bryson, alluded to.

This was, of course, during the period between September 4 and 16, when he lived at her house. He said he had dreamt that the Times building had been blown up and Gen. Otis murdered.

Mrs. Ingersoll often heard him and Schmidt talking of dynamiting and plotting, and she overheard them every day in low conversation. They frequently used the telephone but talked so low that she could not hear what they said.

FLIGHT TO NORTHL

On the night of Saturday, October 1, Brice or Bryson called Mrs. Ingersoll by phone and asked if he could have his room back. He liked the room because it was dark, and quiet, and he could sleep well.

TEN MILLION SUIT BROUGHT.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL DIRECTORS ARE DUMFOUNDED.

LAWYER FURNISHES EXCITEMENT AT MEETING.

DEPUTIES GUARD EXITS AND SERVE SUBPOENAS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Stockholders of the Illinois Central Railroad Company were given a lively hour and a half at their annual meeting today through the efforts of Attorney Maxwell Edgar. Holders representing 784,000 shares of stock were present. Mr. Edgar was accompanied by two deputy sheriffs, who added to the confusion by serving subpoenas during every lull in the meeting on the various directors.

The subpoenas were in a suit for $10,000 damages, which Mr. Edgar, constituting himself an attorney for the road, started in the Circuit Court today, when he filed a praecipe in the case. The defendants to the suit are the directors of the road whom Mr. Edgar seeks to hold responsible for alleged financial loss through car repair "graft," general mismanagement and alleged robbing.

EXITS ARE GUARDED.

While the two deputies were making things interesting in the meeting half a dozen others guarded exits from the Park Row building. Mr. Edgar fearing that some of the directors might attempt to evade service,

This precaution proved superfluous. Three resolutions were introduced by the militant attorney. All were lost by overwhelming votes. He denounced the conduct of the road, demanded the change that the directors are incompetent and that its financial statements are juggling, and that its officials are dishonest and violating the Interstate Commerce law.

His first resolution was in support of these charges and called for an independent investigation of the road by a committee of prominent stockholders. It was voted down—784,000 shares to 44. A second resolution demanded that all directors who are not residents of Chicago be ousted. A third asserted that the Constitution of the State prohibits the present proportion of outsiders on the board. This resolution was REJECTED.

ONE TROUBLE TO CORRECT, THEN WELLMAN WILL TRY AGAIN.

"Equibrator" Is Cause of Failure, Says Journalist-Aeronaut, and He and Engineer Will Devote Efforts to Find Workable Substitute—Historic Rescue Graphically Described by Participants. Dirigible America Has Served Valuable Purpose and is Lost.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Walter Wellman and his five companions were landed here this afternoon by the steamer Trent, which picked them up at sea after they had abandoned their dirigible balloon America and failed in the first attempt ever made to cross the Atlantic through the Azores.

A bruised right hand, which Wellman carried in a sling, was the only physical injury that resulted from their long voyage of approximately 800 miles, and a small cut, the like of which is unknown in all history.

None of the aeronauts expressed regret for the loss of the America. They agreed that it had served its purpose. All stand ready to renew the attempt as soon as Wellman and his engineers find a way to conquer the difficulties through which they have passed during the last two days.

EQUILIBRATOR TROUBLE.

Standing on the deck of the Trent, Wellman made this statement:

"We thought we could not get along without the engine, but we found we could not get along with it. Our plans for the future are indefinite until we find something that will do what we want it to do."

The "equilibrator" to which Wellman attributes the failure of his voyage, was a series of tanks containing gasoline, which he had stored in the water and was attempting to burn to move the airship for its purpose, in addition to starting gasoline and serving as a wireless "ground" to keep the balloon steady, commanding the fuel oil, gas and contraction of gas fuel changed in temperature which would have made the American rise and sink erratically.

The American's experience proved that the burning of oil, gas and contraction of gas fuel changed in temperature which would have made the American rise and sink erratically.

GASOLINE SACRIFICED.

The direct cause of abandonment of the America was exhaustion of the supply of gasoline, which had to be thrown out to save the ship. When the crew abandoned the balloon only about one hour was left to last about twenty-four hours.

Wellman tried to grasp a rope thrown from the Trent and the rope got twisted about his hand. Before he could loosen it, it must have torn the little finger and broken the bone.

The other members of the America's crew said they felt as well as ever, and they looked it. They are: Melvin Larson, navigator; J. W. Irwin, wireless operator, and Albert L. Loud and John Albert, air sailors. There was also the great kites, so popularized by the women passengers, and the Trent that had sides bulged with feeding.

The thick fog over New York Bay this morning forced the Trent to anchor off Staten Island early yesterday afternoon. Meanwhile a party had taken a boat and gone as far as the Quarantine Station to meet the America's crew.

In the meantime Mrs. Lester Cheshire, Wellman's married daughter; his three unmarried daughters; and Mrs. Sarah H. Wellman, wife of Albert Louis, were saved by Morse's lamp.

SAVED BY MORSE'S LAMP.

When the Trent's passengers around Wellman caught sight of the women aboard the tug they cheered. After the Wellman party had boarded the tug, Wellman stood with his arms about his wife and one of his daughters, difficulty in picking up the boat.

voted down without the formality of a roll call.

THIRD TIME AND OUT. On the third and last attempt, Mr. Edgar proposed a resolution asking that suit be brought against James T. Harshan, president of the road, and the estate of the late Ira C. Rawn, who was vice-president before the car accident, and came to light, on charges of gross neglect, criminal liability and culpable negligence. This resolution was buried under another avalanche of contrary votes.

The next business of the meeting was to re-elect the directors for four years. J. T. Harshan, of Chicago, and Cornelius Vanderbilt and Henry W. Doherty, of New York, were elected.

In the course of the meeting the election was brought about:

With the exception of Mr. De Forest, Robert S. Lovett and Robert W. Gerard, all of the eastern directors were present. Mr. Edgar, who was present with proxies for sixty shares, which enabled him to take part in the meeting. He was accompanied by two deputy sheriffs, who added to the confusion by serving subpoenas during every lull in the meeting on the various directors.

The subpoenas were in a suit for $10,000 damages, which Mr. Edgar, constituting himself an attorney for the road, started in the Circuit Court today, when he filed a praecipe in the case. LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19.—Pat Powers, wanted in connection with the robbery of the First Bank of Highland some months ago, was returned this morning from Seattle, by Deputy Sheriff Jack Sturt. He refuses to make any statement other than to deny that he was in this valley at the time of the robbery. His photograph was recognized the day after the robbery as that of the man who held up the bank officials, and made off with $100. The robbery was highly sensational, as well as humorous, as the robbers played the well-known "snipe" game on the officers who were kept busy chasing an expert rober through an orange grove, while the real thief was making his escape with the loot.

C. B. Oliver, of New York, while on the desert last week looking at mining properties, was lost, together with an expert desert mining man. For hours the two wandered over the sand, the miner finally dropping from exhaustion. Oliver managed to reach the supply wagon, and word was sent to the nearest settlers. Help was dispatched and the miner rescued.

DOUGLASS-HARRAH.—The marriage of Miss Mildred Harrah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Harrah, to Benjamin Douglass, was solemnized yesterday at 1 o'clock, at the home of the parents of Palmetto Drive, E. L. Canger. Simple in decoration, the apartment was filled with the wedding which was attended by relatives and close and the contracting parties. The bride wore a white dress with small bunches of flowers, the Lohengrin wedding, six bridesmaids, leading one Miss Harrah, a woman whom she met at a party. Florence Thompson, Sheri Elizabeth McRae and Marguerite Egbert. Their marriage—in delicate pastel tones—was a picture of beauty. The bride carried a basket of flowers. Mrs. Harrah, sister of the bride, and wearing her own wedding dress of white satin with accessories of lace lace and long sleeves, was a picture of grace. Her flowers were lilies of the valley and forget-me-nots.

The wedding-party at the upper floor drawing-room the party was to the groom and his best man, Mr. Douglass, who had been present throughout the day with his orchestra, and after dinner supper was served in the room, which was beautifully decorated in green and gold. Mr. Harrah left last evening for a week's wedding journey and will return after November 15 in Los Angeles. At 1111 Pasadena avenue, the bride and groom are staying at the hotel of Miss Ruthie Newlin Morris Mandelbaum, which took in the United Presbyterian Church. Mr. and Mrs. Mandelbaum left yesterday for a short honeymoon trip to their home in San

COMMITTEE NAMED.

Mr. Harry has appointed the committee to be in charge of the Auxiliary Committee whose duty will be to assist the members of the association in their enthusiasm for the work of the Worthy Grand Patron.

For the office of Worthy Grand Patron there are two candidates, Judge W. J. Mossholder of San Diego and Chas. E. Taylor of Los Angeles.

As the retiring Grand Patron is a northerner, the office this year goes to a southern man, according to custom. The race excited the bachelors of Mandelbaum's state he will split fifty-five per cent. of the votes.

Mrs. Ross J. Burns, of Los Angeles, retires from the office of Worthy Grand Patron. The principal contenders for this office are Mrs. Ada Marsh Dalton of Ontario, Mrs. Anna G. Kendall, Lloyd T. P. Lukens, W. W. Hertel, G. J. and T. D. Nestor.

There are also four candidates for the office of Worthy Patron, William D. Hicks of Sacramento, it is stated, is in the lead. Hicks is a native of San Diego county and a graduate of the High School.

Today's programme opened with a reception to the grand officers by the visiting delegates and the local members of the order. In the afternoon the officers took a boat trip along the coast of the bay region, stops being made at various points of interest, including a trip to the marriage place of Ramona, where a Spanish dinner was served. The programme followed with exemplification of lodge work by the grand officers.

Worthy Grand Patron Ferguson announced that the order of business is devoid of sensational or questions of moment.

MEYER BANQUETED.

Secretary of the Navy Meyer, instead of coming from Los Angeles on a torpedo boat as was expected, arrived on the evening train. He reached here too late to obtain a ride over to the hotel, so he took a taxi.

Secretary Meyer was the guest of the Chamber of Commerce at a dinner given at the U. S. Grant Hotel. William Wright, Lynn J. Gage and Fred Jewell, special guests were State Senator Wright, Lynn J. Gage and Fred Jewell. Special guests were Rear-Admiral Manning, Rear-Admiral Seelye, Commandant of Fort Monmouth, and Capt. Gen. Maus, U. S. A. With Denials, but Speaker, Calm, Holds Audience With Him.

WHITTIER, Oct. 19.—Capt. J. D. Fredericks strengthened his position materially in the race for the District Attorney at the Republican meeting here yesterday.

The captain made a clear, convincing statement of the various points at issue in the campaign, among them giving a comprehensive review of the King will case.

When the captain was in the midst of statements, an interesting interesting party arose and denied several of the things that Fredericks had said.

Fredericks took the interruption with perfect calmness and the demonstration of his audience showed that it proved his position.

After Fredericks had passed to other topics Gale again interrupted but Fredericks would not permit him to do so.

"You have seven days in the week to talk here," Fredericks said. "This hall is paid for for tonight and you can't have the floor."

There was a large attendance. Capt. Fredericks was the only speaker.

PAT IS BROUGHT BACK.

MAN ACCUSED OF ROBBING HIGHLAND BANK IS NOW IN JAIL AT SAN BERNARDINO.

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 19.—Pat Powers, wanted in connection with the robbery of the First Bank of Highland some months ago, was returned this morning from Seattle, by Deputy Sheriff Jack Sturt. He refuses to make any statement other than to deny that he was in this valley at the time of the robbery. His photograph was recognized the day after the robbery as that of the man who held up the bank officials, and made off with $100. The robbery was highly sensational, as well as humorous, as the robbers played the well-known "snipe" game on the officers who were kept busy chasing an expert rober through an orange grove, while the real thief was making his escape with the loot.

C. B. Oliver, of New York, while on the desert last week looking at mining properties, was lost, together with an expert desert mining man. For hours the two wandered over the sand, the miner finally dropping from exhaustion. Oliver managed to reach the supply wagon, and word was sent to the nearest settlers. Help was dispatched and the miner rescued.

CONNER AND WIEHL.—Conner and Wiehl were summoned to Redlands today to inquire into the death of an infant, whose body was found in the brush by a Mexican. It is believed the death was natural, the parents, Mexicans, being too poor to pay funeral expenses and so disposed of the little corpse where found. Wind dogs had torn the body.

Josephine Bartlett, sister of Jessie Bartlett Davis, whose rapturous singing of "Oh, Promise Me," in Robin Hood, is recalled with pleasure by An-gelenos. She is dead. Josephine Bartlett was the Dame Durden of that incomparable cast. Don't you remember?

This is the season of the year when in Southern California the graceful lines of Thomas Bailey Aldrich apply:

"We know it would rain, for all the

A spirit on slender ropes of mist
Was lowering its golden buckets down

TWEEDLEDUM AND TWEEDLEDEE
"Which is the best road to the Big-bug mine?" asked the Arizona traveler, as he halted his jaded team in front of the wayside saloon. "Stranger," was the reply of the barkeeper, "that ain't no best road. Both roads are rocky, and sidelin' and full of chuck holes. Whichever road you take you'll wish you had took the other before you've gone a mile."

That is the fix that old Republicans of California find themselves in as they shake their heads when they read their party platform; and Democrats are but little better off, although they have never cared so much about doctrinal politics, for their motto has usually been, "Men, not principles."

Extract the designating party names from the platforms and it is doubtful whether either a California Republican or a California Democrat could pick out his party on a dark night. This condition is a result of the workings of the eccentric primary election law, which harnesses the cart before the horse by providing first for a choice of nominees, and then electing another set of men to formulate the principles on which the candidates must stand.

Time was—not so long ago—when the Republican bands played the music of anthems that stirred the blood and uplifted the souls of men,
even from the Arctic to the Caribbean,
from the Atlantic to the Orient.

The preservation of a nation—the freedom of a race—free homes for the industrious, mighty industrial development that set the studios humming and the furnaces glowing—the task of linking together both banks of iron with the wearing of a garment of empire on the loom of a hemisphere—clipping the fringes of the flag in the surf of four oceans—freedom for the Aborigines—clearing a passage for deep-sea ships that will make the white decoration of the stormy Antarctic only a memory—these were the swelling strains of the Republican anthem of old.

Now the martial music, the swelling notes of triumph are, for the time being, hushed to silence. Pigmies have seized the instruments of the giants and are twanging the "high-pitched bits of tunes obscene" and playing jig discs for the dancing of the Car-magnoles.

The difference between the Republican State platform and the Democratic State platform in California can best be described by the old couplet:
"What is the difference that any one can see?"

"Twixt tweedledum and tweedledee?"
Both platforms begin with a crescendo of denunciation of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company.

The Republican platform says:
"We stand for the elimination from the politics of the State, of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company's political bureau."

The Democratic platform says:
"The emancipation of California from Southern Pacific domination overshadows every other consideration."

The Republican platform says:
"Economy, efficiency, businesslike methods and uniform accounting in state and county government."

And the Democratic platform says:
"Retirement and reform in public expenditures. An honest, efficient service."

OUR NATIONAL QUESTION.

our footsteps to the firm ground from which you were misled? The striking members of the labor unions in Los Angeles are staggering and sinking in a slough of despair. There is yet time for them to withdraw from
it. Let them be wise. Let them discard and repudiate and incontinently and immediately fire out their evil counselors, and abandon the attempt to establish the closed shop doctrine in a city which will have none of it.
Only by so doing will they regain the respect and good opinion of the community, and once more find honorable and legitimate employment.

It is in no spirit of self-seeking that The Times offers this counsel. It is beyond the reach of the malice of those who hate it, and whose counselors inspired the futile efforts of the dynamites who sought to destroy it. Order, law, government and civilization itself, are the backbone of The Times.
Its proprietor and editor enjoys the respect and regard, and countenance and aid of all good men and women.

We plead not for The Times. We demand not vengeance upon those who vainly sought to destroy it. We plead for the misguided men who with their families are suffering from misguidance. We beg them, for our own sake, to discard utterly those who have mislead them. Let the winds once more ring out the diapason of honest toll. Let peace and good will once more abide in busy shop.

THE GREAT TRADE ROUTE.

Where will be the world's great trade route in the future, and will it be east and west or north and south?

We are interested in these questions because we are making a port that will be among the wonders of the world,

more remarkable than the hanging gardens of Babylon or those other things which the ancients used to speak of as the seven wonders.

The trend of population westward,
the opening of the Panama Canal, the awakening of China, the forward
march of Japan, the restlessness of India,
all these things have to be considered in looking forward to the future of trade and the roads it will travel.

Heretofore, there has been but one port on the American Pacific, and that is San Francisco.

Whether by accident or design, San Francisco and Maj. Gen. John D.
Weber, candidate for superior port to fill out the mail route by the reduction of Judge (now Appellate Justice) James J. McLaughlin, have put the whole place on the dock.

Their names are put on the bill against those of James J. McLaughlin and Justice Conner, who are the candidates of the American Legion.

They are afraid that many of the voters will give the idea that all four are ranning for the same office and ignore the two others. Lewis, however, is a man of his word, and he has remained as the candidate of the Good Government party for superior court.

Disciplines is to be brought to bear upon members of the County Committee who attempt to make their own selections as to which of the candidates on the ticket will be chosen.

THURSDAY MORNING

WATCH TOWER

PRIMA DONNA OF AN ALIAS.
LILLIAN IS REALLY
LILLY DORN.

Lillian's campaign in the wound up on a trolley in Los Angeles on the new idea of what the old all the patent rights have done to politicians before of making use of it starts out of Los Angeles of a wheel into the nearly every voting place.

however, that the trolley will remain in California until the thirty-first of his personal campaign, he will make a trip to the Kite Shaped in all the large towns across the state. This trip will start on the twenty-first, following Bell's return to Los Angeles on a bus and will remain in California until the thirty-first of his personal campaign.

Following Bell's return to Los Angeles on a bus and the group opened up to show the hope to be using as well how she happens to be an interesting story. A year ago Lilly Dorn was contracted by an American agent to appear in New York, and for appearances under the direction of Shuberts.

He came to America—only to find that her contract had not been honored, that her agent had lied, and that the Shuberts were unprepared for her appearance.

She could speak very good English and was a gift to Vienna—so she got on. The Shuberts gave her a Hippodrome prima donna role in a Japanese tea garden, supported by a big orchestra, and a conducted chorus, but she was far dissatisfied.

Thought for months I should have, or do something equally well," said she, yesterday. "I had come to America to sing grand opera and in something as fine as Stravinsky's 'Chocolate Soldier,' I was in a circus production.

and bye, I got used to it, for America, and the breed in America way of doing things, I don't believe folks ever see me. I know that my mother very bitterly toward me yet on account.

Then I saw how my people thought they should, not their name brought into what seemed disgrace, so for Hippodrome purposes "Lilly Dorn" disappeared and "Lillian" came, and I loved her very much,

and remained in her stead ever since.

My favorite roles in Prague were "Lohengrin," and Gretchen in "Faust."

We who speak German in Prague, instead of Marguerite.

Then I added Musetta in "La Bohème," and I loved her very much, and several calls to Europe have been here, but I am anxious to go back to America, and I think I will return—right away, anyway.

My Los Angeles engagement, I will take on the Orpheum on October 25th, and it's to New York for light opera.

She carried a white prayer book and her only ornament was a pearl pendant, gift of the groom. The gown was composed of white muslin with a border of wax orange blossoms worn by Mrs. Jane H. Flance at her own wedding. There were six little flower girls dressed in pink and precede the bridal pair to the altar. The Misses Edith Newcomer, Edith Hitchcock Ruth Graham and Martha Lathrop in lingerie served as flower girls. They carried bouquets of carnations. FACTS, FEATURES AND ANCIES FOR WOMEN.

By Olive Gray

Daily Beauty Hint: With all that has been said about not drinking water with meals, I still believe in the old adage as to "drinking when thirsty." Above all, I believe it necessary to drink plenty of water at some time during each day. Pure water copiously taken just after rising in the morning, helps to clear the complexion and to purify the system.

Some one has written regarding the etiquette of happiness, taking the stand that happiness is not only a necessity to the individual but a courtesy to those with whom we come in contact. I like this idea. While the "smile" motions have perhaps been overdone and are often used as a means of entrance, a result of a revolution "taken"—as one would take a dose of medicine—become vapid and meaningless. I do believe that one can cultivate true happiness and eventually radiate it, even without the perpetual smile. In fact, it is by no means necessary to smile upon all occasions, to proclaim happiness. The facial expression of the smile, the walk, the music, more loudly than the words, the real happiness which has its home in the heart and which may be made ours regardless of external matters.

I once heard a girl say: "I start every day with the thought that something extraordinarily joyous is going to happen to me today, and it is wonderful how many joyous things do happen. Then, suddenly, as good as you can be, far better than to wonder what hateful event would next occur."

In doing the entire shopping along Broadway, recently, I made and Prof. Carl Bronson. Vocal selections were contributed by Miss Alice Williams, Miss Ethelmae, Miss Lydia soprano; Miss Ethelmae, dramatic tenor, and Prof. Bronson, baritone. Prof. Bronson also contributed to the pleasure of the evening with several piano numbers of his own composition. The rooms were tastefully decorated.

Mrs. Joyce Hostess.

Members of the P. E. O. College Club were guests yesterday of Mrs. Malone Joyce and her sister, Mrs. Lilian Reynolds, who entertained with an all-day party. The house was white and yellow, adorned the home at No. 124 Arapahoe street. A pleasing feature was a talk on Mexico by Mrs. Carl Bronson, who recited poems by Mrs. Matai Pottier of Holly Hill, Miss Wilma Leach were enjoyed. Miss Leslie Stoen, who recently returned from a trip East gave several recitations. The party was served with coffee, tea, cake, punch and the colored juice used in decorating. The guests were received at the gates by Mrs. Allerton, Mrs. William Bayly, Mrs. G. J. Johnson, Mrs. Stephen L. Harding, Mrs. W. C. Patterson, Mrs. Hugh A. Walker, Mrs. O. T. Johnson, Mrs. Joseph M. Among the passengers who sailed yesterday from New York on the steamer George Washington were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carpenter Blanchard, who were married there last New Year's Day, and Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard will pass two years in England. She carried a shower of roses in the bride's room. Her only ornament was a sapphire and pearl brooch the gift of the groom. Miss Evelyn Cline assisted as flower girl and carried a basket of flowers and wove a garland of grape chives. W. W. Widmer was best man. The home was bright with garlands of smilax and roses. At the conclusion of a trip Mr. and Mrs. Fullenwider will make their home in Glendale where the groom is in business.

Hart-Bailey Wedding.

Beneath a canopy of yellow and white tissue studded with yellow chrysanthemums and saffron plumes Miss Harriett Hart and Emerson Morris Bailey were married yesterday at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Hart, 1120 West Adams street. Rev. Dr. Warren F. Day was the officiating minister and Mrs. J. M. Jones the harpist and Prof. Woodward the organist. The bride's father, Charles of the music, Miss Marcha Hunt, was maid of honor and George Bradley assisted as best man. Little Katherine W. Hart carried a basket of flowers and was the bride's maid of honor. The bride's mother was Miss Marcha Hunt, formerly a maid of honor to George Bradley and was assisted as best man. Little Katherine Wells and Miss Laura Pynan, Mrs. Hart and her daughter formerly lived in Oak Park, where George was graduated from Mills College. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey will make their home in Salt Lake at the conclusion of a honeymoon trip.

Guest of Brother.

Mrs. Marion E. McGregor of New York is the guest in this city of her brother A. K. Hasson of No. 2707 La Salle avenue.

Birthday Dinner.

A charming affair of this evening will be the birthday dinner given by Mrs. Alfred L. Semmacher at her home, No. 424 Dalton Avenue, in the canyon of the mountains. The dinner will be decorated in Halloween designs and the table will be entirely in red, ribbons, carnations and hearts being affected. The menu will consist of roast beef, baked ham, creamed oysters, baked beans, etc. Robert Schaeffer of New York, W. D. Van Nestrand, and Charles F. Drew of San Francisco.

Fishing Fashions.

An auto wheel standing in their midst attracted attention on Broadway. The coats are extremely "swagger" and make one feel almost like wishing to draw the lucky number in the automobile contest at a certain drug store that the one might be lucky enough to own one of these coats. The bright scarlet one with black trimmings is especially dashing.

Hallowe'en.

The novelties for the fall festival were never so odd or attractive, it seems to me. There is an especial fad for black cats, and they are always expressive and amusing; but have you ever seen a black cat? I have not. The most funny fumist of all, and somehow they seem so appropriate that you wonder how nature happened to forget to make gats of that color.

Cotton Rancho.

$40 Per Acre and up, Including Water Stock

Located Opposite City of Needles, California

470 FEET ABOVE SEA LEVEL.

The COTTON RANCHO borders along the Colorado River for more than twenty-five miles and represents the best opportunity for increased land values and home settlement now offered the Los Angeles public.

WATER STOCK INCLUDED.

The Rancho has an unlimited and unfailing water supply. Early water filings on the Colorado River and a splendid irrigation system insure this for all time to come. YOU HAVE NO WATER TO DEVELOP AT COTTON RANCHO—it is there ready to be turned on the land without regard to quantity for use in irrigation.

GOD DOMESTIC WATER.

Water for domestic purposes may be easily obtained at about 25 feet.

SOIL FERTILE AND INEXHAUSTIBLE.

The tract contains 34,000 acres of rich River Soil, washed down from the canyons of the Colorado through centuries. Irrigated by the Colorado River, it is well supplied and it is believed cannot be exhausted because the Colorado River water carries with it fertilizing strength, according to Prof. Forbes of the Arizona Experimental Station, equal to $8.50 per acre of commercial fertilizer per annum.

IDEAL PLACE TO RAISE ALFALFA.

Alfalfa, the mortgage lifter, can be grown to better advantage at COTTON RANCHO and other Colorado River lands, than any other location now offered for sale. The long growing season makes it possible to cut alfalfa 8 or 9 times a year, the cutting ranging from 1 to 2½ tons per acre. Alfalfa is selling along the Santa Fe for 100 miles around COTTON RANCHO from $15.00 to $25.00 per ton.

GOOD DOMESTIC WATER.

Water for domestic purposes may be easily obtained at about 25 feet.

S. S. CURES OLD SORES.

Whenever a sore or ulcer becomes chronic it is because the blood, the healing qualities of the circulation have been weakened.

We all realize that the circulation is the great source of nourishment for all flesh tissues; thus we readily understand why impurities or poisons in this vital fluid will infect and disease the flesh at particular spot, and by continually discharging impurities into the place open, raw and inflamed.

Every symptom of an old sore suggests diseased blood, inflammation, discharge, discolored flesh, and the fact that such applications have no permanent effect toward healing the ulcer.

The bad effects of forming societies of working people, of forming societies of working people, however good in itself, often causes the notice of many philanthropists, who are in sympathy with the cause.

It remains neutral on these points. By never mixing up with religion or with politics, we never bother anybody about their views on these subjects.

If the people can be improved as a whole, the appeal of social reformers to them must be as broad as life itself.

If the people are in this way that the whole life of any city may be improved. We realize this is not true when we consider the amount of personal time and attention required to really understand and deal wisely with the case of any one man or family that has fallen into crime or poverty.

NEUTRAL POINTS.

"One of the arguments in favor of community work is that the character which I recommend is that it comes from religious or political parties. It remains neutral on these points. By never mixing up with religion or with politics, we never bother anybody about their views on these subjects.

If the people are in this way that the whole life of any city may be improved.

UNIVERSITY SETTLEMENT WORK IN NEW LIGHT.

"University Settlement and Neighborhood Guild work are of the utmost importance because the first step in social reform must be the consciousness of the intellect and the moral life of the people for the total improvement of the human family."

This is the opinion of Dr. Stanton Cope, a noted lecturer and author of London, who has had much to do with educational work both in England and America, and who is here to lecture tomorrow morning before the Friday Evening Club, and Friday night before the Florence Club.

"Whatever may be the nature of fundamental changes ultimately to be made in land tenure, in taxation and in other directions," said Dr. Cope, "what we now need is an adequate number of men who are willing to put into practice the principles of good living already available."

Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is not good as you feel blotted after eating, or if your food has like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diapepsin.

begin in a small way and expand gradually by the multiplication of small centers and we are full of hope for the future. We have not yet created a group of families from contact with their surrounding society nor disregard any present conditions or motives of life. It simply takes the individual to more and more freedom by increasing the means of their enjoyment, proceeds to social improvement by means of mental and moral development, and finally itself the spirit of great patriotism it hopes through the development of the individual to lay the corner stone of the perfect city.

A VIGOROUS EXPRESSION.

The Following Preamble and Resolutions Were Adopted by the Eboli Club of Pomona.

WHEREAS, In our neighboring City of Los Angeles a dastardly crime was committed, resulting in the death of a score of defenseless human beings and causing sorrow and indignation throughout the civilized world; and

WHEREAS, A determined, general and united protest from individuals and organizations is a potent force in the education of public sentiment as a prevention of further outrages;

WHEREFORE, do we, members of the Eboli Club of Pomona and assembled guests declare our horror at such inane and inhuman methods of settling differences, and deplore the use of violence and bludgeons which have been spoken of, such as tend to incite the weak of mind and depraved in instinct, to commit such atrocities.

And we would further urge, that the law enforcement agencies should prosecute with that calm determination free from hurry and popular frenzy, which makes justice so impulsive as terror to evil doers, as well as guarantees of a stable and popular government.

RESOLVED, That our deep and heartfelt sympathy be extended to those who have suffered loss and damage, however good in itself, too often the notice of many philanthropists, a society causes its members to appear out of proportion to the size of life or of culture which tends to develop. In all of our cities we have the most abominable spectacle of people who are by such combination of intense greed and a want of manhood and of character that in East London we had over a week simply for the benefit of the poor, who were the rich and the well-to-do, who organized themselves to help the poor, who gave up their walks in life to professional boxers.

MRS. J. T. BRADY, President.
MRS. F. D. GREEN, Secretary.

GAMUT CLUB EXPANSION.

One Hundred Prominent Los Angeles Business Men Will Be Picked for "Sustaining Membership."

"Sustaining membership" is the latest plan of the Gamut Club to attract the support it needs to continue and to expand its work of providing the city with excellent music and, in a general way, of increasing the local appreciation of art.

At least 100 of the city's most influential men will be invited to join the Gamut Club on this basis. When he is a fitting incident of life given to him an absorbing object of interest, the man who organizes and the very group of friends leading him to the same interest generally give up their walks in life to professional boxers.

HIGHLY ADVANTAGEOUS.

Illustrates the evils to be followed by clubs on the principle of competition in the number of members.

Settlements have attempted to touch down to their whole class of members, not only the object of preventing them from bringing within their reach other advantages which their means do not allow them individually to obtain.

The supreme aim, which is depicted in view, is the completed each individual as a work of art.

It is a fact that the superior development of a man or a family or a circle of friends may prove the social salvation of the community.

Afterward an elaborate concert, to which guests are invited, is enjoyed.

VISALIA WILL BE THERE.

VISALIA, Oct. 19.—Turkey Red Cigarettes will be some out of the United States Land and Irrigation Congress in Chicago in November. Secretary Miot, at the headquarters of the Board of Trade, is making a selection of artists to come to the city.

Special rates have been granted by the railroads and Mr. Miot intends to have a dinner during the time of the exhibition.

We have found that some very happy marriages have come out of this city. When you send us a letter, we have known at least 50 or 100 other sex for four or five years than much more likely to mate of ordinary taste and appearance than if a marriage could be maintained without so broad an acquaintance.

ENTERTAINMENT HELPS.

We have been very happy in finding and within the influence of different theaters. In London we have been in competition with each other for the last eight years. We have given delightful performances and our efforts to the public have been rewarded by a high-class concert once every year, but have never afforded our people the opportunity so that they are not long.

For the past eight years Mr. Lindley was managing editor of the Argus.

DIES AT LATON.

LATON, Oct. 19.—One of the wisest known men in the Grant country and for years a newspaper man of this city, H. D. Lindley, died at his home in this city last night, from the effects of a heart attack. He was 65 years old.

It was thought advisable to operate last week, and he never recovered from the shock.

For the past eight years Mr. Lindley was managing editor of the Argus.
